Part 3

Questions 19 to 26

You are going to read an extract from an article. For questions 19 to 26, choose the correct answer (A, B, C or D) and mark the correct letter on your answer sheet.

Did you know that some people don't do their reading assignments? It's shocking, but it's true. Some students don't even read short texts that they are assigned in class. There are many reasons for this. They may be distracted or bored. They may be unwilling to focus. They may be unconfident readers. Whatever the reason, it has to stop today. Here's why.

Reading stimulates your mind. It is like a workout for your brain. When people get old, their muscles begin to deteriorate. They get weaker and their strength leaves them. Exercise can prevent this loss. The same thing happens to people's brains when they get older. Brain power and speed decline with age. Reading strengthens your brain and prevents these declines.

You can benefit from reading in the near-term too. Reading provides knowledge. Knowledge is power. Therefore, reading can make you a more powerful person. You can learn to do new things by reading. Do you want to make video games? Do you want to design clothing? Reading can teach you all this and more. But you have to get good at reading, and the only way to get good at something is to practise.

Read everything that you can at school, regardless of whether you find it interesting. Reading expands your vocabulary. Even a "boring" text can teach you new words. Having a larger vocabulary will help you better express yourself. You will be able to speak, write, and think more intelligently. What's boring about that?

Do not just discount a text because it is unfamiliar to you. Each time you read, you are exposed to new ideas and perspectives. Reading can change the way that you understand the world. It can give you a broader perspective on things. It can make you worldlier. You can learn how people live in far away places. You can learn about cultures different from your own.

Reading is good for your state of mind. It has a calming effect. It can lower your stress levels and help you relax. You can escape from your troubles for a moment when you read, and it's a positive escape. The benefits of reading far outweigh those of acting like a doofus. So do yourself a favour: the next time you get a reading assignment, take as much as you can from it. Squeeze it for every drop of knowledge that it contains. Then move on to the next one.

Part 4

Questions 27 to 32

You are going to read an article about shopping.

Six sentences have been removed from the article. Choose from the sentences A to H the BEWARE!....Retailers are tricking you into spending more money!

Have you ever wandered into a shop with a list of a few things, only to come out with twice as much stuff? There is a reason for this. 27 And they work!

Smell is the common trick used to get the shoppers spending. Most supermarkets now welcome customers with the smell of fresh bread or roast chicken to make you hungry, in which case you are more likely to buy food. Imagine if you are starving! Many restaurants and fast food outlets use the same trick and send kitchen smells onto the street to attract more customers.

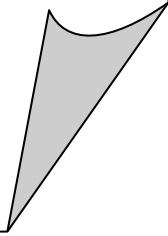

28 . More popular items are usually in the middle aisles so that you have to walk further, past more products to reach them. Products that shops want to promote are placed at eye-level or at the end of aisle to get to maximum attention.

Have you ever noticed that certain shelves in shops look untidy, as if customers have been moving everything around? 29 . You may think that people would be put off by this but retailers often make areas look untidy, so that customers believe they are looking at 'reduced-priced products or a very popular promotion.

Even the way floors are designed can make you spend more. In many supermarkets, the tiles in aisles with expensive items are smaller so that it sounds as if your trolley is moving faster, which make you slow down and spend more time in that area. 30 Other shops remove windows, so that you have less connection with the outside world and are more likely to spend more time shopping. If you can't see that it is getting dark outside, you are more likely to take your time inside the shop.

Retailers would quickly go out of business if we walked straight in, bought what we needed, then walked straight out again. 31 . Similarly, in clothes shops, fitting room and cash desks are usually far from the entrance. Shopping malls usually have complicated floor plans so that it's easy to get in but harder to find your way out. Also, separating escalators between floors means you have to walk around the mall to go up to another level. The more time you spend inside, the more money you are likely to spend.

32 Don't let them get away with it!

- A Many shops use carpets to slow your speed.
- B The way that products are displayed also plays a very important role.
- C Retailers are playing with your mind.
- D Retailers have been using different techniques to increase their sales for years.
- E This is why in food shops major items such as bread and milk are placed at the back.
- F However, customers tend to buy more than what they need.
- G This is not by accident.
- H Customers can go out easily.
