Questions 1 to 8

Read the text carefully in each question. Choose the best answer A, B or C. For each question, mark the correct answer A, B or C on your answer sheet.

GO
GREEN!

Our environment requires our concern and we should keep it safe from irresponsible people. We have to be careful of our actions and their impact on nature. We should aim to reduce waste, recycle materials and save energy. We should use public transportation and use renewable energy sources. By doing this, we can contribute to preserving earth for future generations. Let's join hands to safeguard our environment and create a greener future.

- 1 According to the passage, it is important to be cautious of our action so that...
- A we can produce renewable energy.
  - B we can still use public transportation in the future.
  - C our environment will still be here for years to come.

Say Cheese!

Whenever you notice someone taking a family picture, it is thoughtful to offer to take the photo for them. This ensures that everyone can participate in capturing the exact point in time. It is surprising how that picture could potentially be featured on their holiday card or become a cherished remembrance. Additionally, it is common for people to return the favour by offering to do the same for you.

- 2 By helping someone take a photo of their family, ...
- A you will be included in their holiday.
  - B they will surely take your photo in return.
  - C everyone in the family will be captured in that moment.

Being punctual is essential when it comes to air travel. If you arrive late at the airport, not only do you risk missing your flight, but you also trouble fellow passengers and the flight crew. Furthermore, being late might draw the attention of airport security personnel. To prevent such airport disasters, it is best to plan accordingly to avoid such airport mistakes and be more efficient in your travel preparations.

- 3 According to the passage above, being on time...
- A allows a passenger to travel comfortably.
  - B provides you with the assistance of the airport security officers.
  - C is important as it gives more time for other passengers to check in.

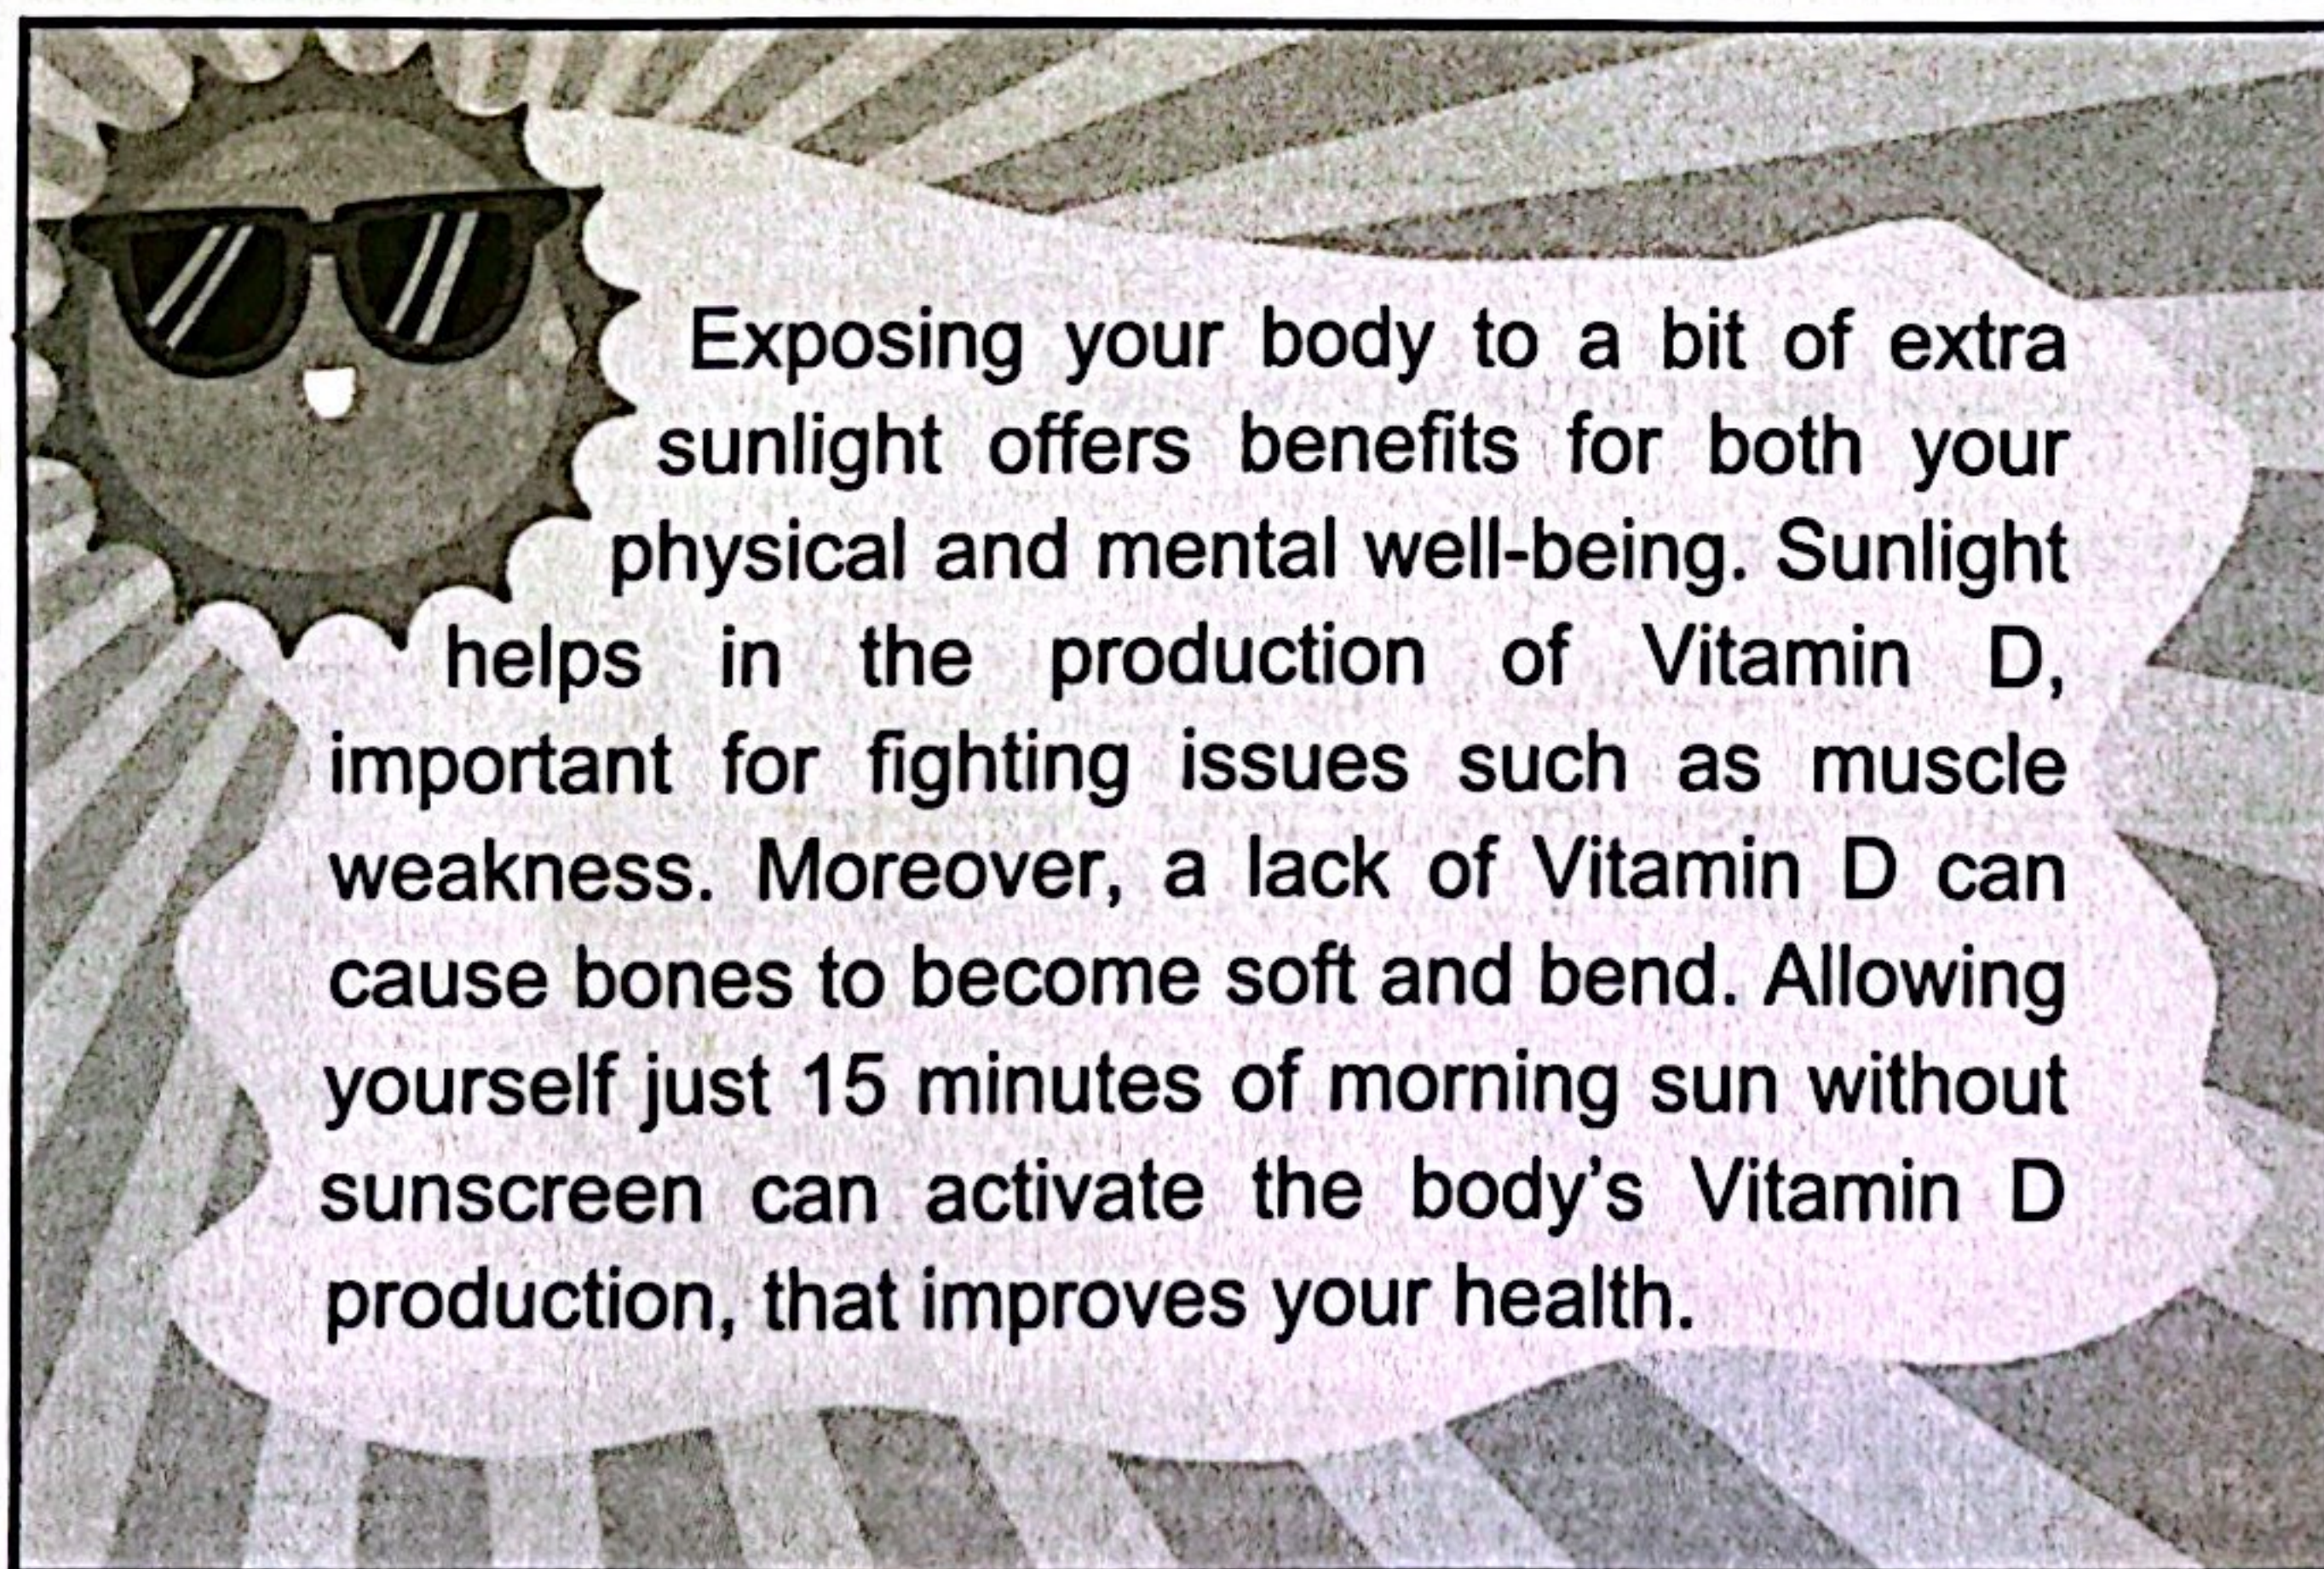

When family members work together to do household chores, they not only keep the house clean but also develop closer relationships. When tasks are divided fairly and realistic goals are set, a chore chart could be created. This encourages everyone to take responsibility for their assigned tasks. By taking turns and sharing responsibilities, family members have the opportunity to learn new things and avoid feeling bored. In this way, we contribute to a peaceful home environment and strengthen our bonds as a family.

- 4 Based on the passage, when a family works together...
- A division of work can be lopsided.
  - B responsibility falls on the head of the family.
  - C chore charts make it easier for work to be completed.

NEWS

Using your phone in public places poses a significant security risk. One of the main dangers is the possible weakness of public Wi-Fi networks. These networks may lack proper security measures, allowing unlawful individuals to tap and monitor your online activities. As a result, sensitive information such as passwords can be captured and private emails may be accessed by other people since it is not securely protected. It is important to be careful and have security measures when using your phone in public settings.

- 5 Based on the news excerpt, we know that...
- A public Wi-Fi networks are secured.
  - B your emails are protected from being opened by others.
  - C using your phone in public can leak your password to hackers.

- 6 We can summarise that Vitamin D...
- A helps in strengthening the muscles.
  - B causes one's muscles to ache all over.
  - C will be produced after 15 minutes of exercise.

I saw a dress in a shop that I knew my granddaughter would love. But money was tight, so I asked the store owner if she could hold it for me. "May I buy the dress for you?" asked another customer. "Thank you, but I can't accept such a gracious gift," I said. Then she told me why it was so important for her to help me. She would have been homeless for three years, she said, and had it not been for the kindness of strangers, she would not have survived. "I'm no longer homeless and my situation has improved," she said. "I promised myself that I would repay the kindness so many had shown me." She paid for the dress, and the only payment she would accept in return was a heartfelt hug.

- 7 It was important for the lady to help pay for the dress because...
- A she now has the money to spend on others.
  - B she merely wanted a warm cuddle in return of her favour.
  - C she vowed to repay the kindness she received to others in need.

It was Aunt May who said, "Not all of us can do great things. But we can do small things with great love. When we are busy and focused on our own lives, sometimes it's hard to see how we can help others – by donating our money or our time. As it turns out, the act of giving is a very important one. Not only does giving benefit your health, but it also helps to build a circle of generosity," and she was right.

- 8 Aunt May said that...
- A small gestures goes a long way.
  - B donating will help you stay healthy.
  - C we must give away our money and time.

Questions 9 to 18

Read the text below and choose the best word for each space. For each question, mark the correct letter A, B, C or D on the given answer sheet.

Once upon a time, a daughter (0) complained to her father that her life was sorrowful. She got tired of struggling and fighting in her (9) _____ all the time. It seems that life is full of problems. As one problem gets solved, another problem soon follows.

Listening to this, the father asked her daughter to (10) _____ him to the kitchen. In the kitchen, the father filled three pots with water and placed the pots one above the other on a high fire. Once the three pots started boiling, he placed potatoes, eggs and ground coffee beans in three different pots.

The annoyed daughter (11) _____ waited to see what her father was doing. After 20 minutes, all the three stoves were (12) _____ off by her father. The father first took the potatoes out of the pot and placed them in a bowl. He then pulled out the eggs and placed them in a bowl. Finally, he took the coffee out and placed them in a cup.

The father then asked her to have a (13) _____ of coffee. The rich aroma of coffee brought a smile to her face. "What does this mean?" The daughter asked her father.

He explained that potatoes, eggs, and coffee beans had (14) _____ the same difficulties; the boiling water. However, each reaction is different. The potato went in strong but became weak and soft in the boiling water. The egg was weak with the thin outer shell (15) _____ its liquid part until it was placed in boiling water. Then the inner part of the egg also became hard. The ground coffee beans were unique. After they are exposed to boiling water, they change their colour and create something new.

The father further asked his daughter, "Which are you? How do you (16) _____ when difficulty knocks on your door?"

Everyone faces problems, but every individual has a different (17) _____ on how to react to the problems. Therefore, whenever we face difficulties in life, instead of becoming weak or soft, stay strong and hard. We should always try to give new (18) _____ to our life. We should know that we have the power and can control our thoughts, decisions, and actions.

Part 3*[8 marks]

Questions 19 to 26 are based on the following passage.

Read the passage carefully and choose the best answer A, B, C or D.

For each question, mark your answer on the answer sheet.

Cheryl Kingan and I are seated on a bench in front of a coffee shop called Café Grumpy. Inside the coffee shop, music is blaring over the speakers, as customers queue to place their orders. If you were waiting in that line, hoping to order a cup of coffee, you would be faced with a surprisingly difficult decision. On the menu, each coffee is listed with its own enticing description that boasts the flavours of white grape, apricot, black currant, and jasmine.

The head roaster of Café Grumpy readies a new batch of green beans to be roasted, lifting a burlap sack, almost as large as he is. How do these burlap sacks come to be delivered to Café Grumpy? Well, this is where Cheryl comes in. It is Cheryl's job to purchase these beans from the producers who grow, harvest, and process them. Cheryl is a coffee supplier and her job is to select and source the beans that the baristas will use to brew the different kinds of coffees featured on the menu. Cheryl began this job a little over a year ago.

Cheryl attended the annual coffee conference where all the coffee producers were gathered. "It was a great opportunity to taste different types of coffees and meet people who are responsible for producing them." She was surprised by the love, care and hospitable nature of the people whom she met there. After the conference, as it was the end of the harvest, Cheryl had many coffees to taste. "I tasted between forty to sixty cups of different types every day! I met many people who are responsible for the coffees and made connections for the future." She travelled further and built sustainable relationships with all whom she met. Cheryl believes that this might be the highlight of her journey looking for coffee beans.

It was not easy though as climate change was having a devastating impact on coffee production all over the world. The changes in climate have produced increasingly unpredictable harvests, producers might make plenty of money one year, but almost no money the next. Cheryl had some challenging talks with the coffee producers as that year's production was down to 40% of what it usually is. Due to this, many youths had migrated to the cities to look for better job opportunities than to carry on coffee farming. It is definitely difficult to inspire the youths to pick up coffee farming if there is no money in it.

Cheryl is thus tasked with an important and difficult mission, that is to encourage coffee producers to build more sustainable and stable models for selling their coffee beans. To do that, they had to forge lasting relationships with small buyers like Café Grumpy, instead of just selling their harvest to the highest bidders at auctions.

Cheryl aims to convince farmers that they can always depend on Café Grumpy's business, regardless of whether the harvest is large or small. "We have to work really hard to make that incentive for them and to encourage them to keep producing," Cheryl says. "We don't want to lose coffee." For the struggling coffee producers, Cheryl's words sounded like music. They now had an avenue to sell their small harvest and still make some money.

19 Cheryl's role at Café Grumpy is as the ...

- A head barista.
- B cafe manager.
- C coffee bean buyer.
- D coffee quality analyst.

20 After attending the coffee conference, Cheryl ...

- A met all the coffee producers.
- B looked for new coffee producers.
- C kept on looking for new coffee beans.
- D strengthened the bond with the people she met.

21 Cheryl described her experience of tasting coffees as ...

- A a challenging effort.
- B a repetitive routine task.
- C an awesome sensory journey.
- D a cultural involvement through coffee.

22 "...climate change was having a devastating impact on coffee production all over the world".

In paragraph 4, this statement informs us that the climate change ...

- A increases coffee quality and taste.
- B increases demand for coffee beans.
- C decreases the supply of coffee beans.
- D decreases the number of coffee farms.

- 23 Cheryl's main task is to convince the coffee producers to ...
- A sell to smaller cafes.
  - B reduce coffee consumption.
  - C auction to the highest bidders.
  - D establish large-scale coffee plantations.
- 24 The youths were moving away to the city to ...
- A start coffee cafes.
  - B look for better paying jobs.
  - C be more involved in coffee farming.
  - D look for the highest bidders for their coffee.
- 25 Cheryl's words sounded like music. This means that Cheryl ...
- A likes music.
  - B sounds like music.
  - C brings encouraging news.
  - D helps in building their business.
- 26 The purpose of the passage is ...
- A to encourage the selling of coffees across borders.
  - B to persuade coffee farmers to keep on farming on smaller scales.
  - C the need for coffee producers to inspire youths to pick up coffee farming.
  - D about Café Grumpy's international selection of coffee and their unique flavours.

Questions 27 to 32

You are going to read an extract below.

Six sentences have been removed from the extract. Choose from the sentences (A – H) to fit each gap (27 – 32). There are two extra sentences which you do not need to use.

For each question, mark the correct answer (A – H) on your answer sheet.

In the heart of a dense, wild jungle, a young adventurer named Vikky found herself lost. Panic washed over her but she knew she had to keep calm. 27 . It was almost afternoon actually but the forest floor was rather dark. Vikky's heart raced as she realised she had wandered far from the familiar path. 28 . After a few minutes, her heart beat began to slow down.

The first thing Vikky had to do was check her supplies. 29 . "This definitely is one!" she thought to herself. She had everything that she needed which would last for at least a day. Feeling a bit more confident, Vikky tried to retract her steps based on her calculations using her smartwatch.

With each step, she heard strange sounds and saw some creatures hidden in the trees. 30 . She told herself that they were just in her imagination. Vikky was determined to find her way back home.

Vikky had been walking for more than an hour when she decided to stop for a break as her stomach began to growl. She took small bites of her power bar and only sips of her water.

31 . She needed to conserve her supplies but made sure that she had enough energy too. Deep in her thoughts, Vikky was suddenly alerted to a rustling sound to her right. She turned her head towards it. 32 . She let out a cry of relief and joy.

- A Fear crept into her mind, but she quickly brushed away those thoughts.
- B To calm herself down, she closed her eyes and took deep breaths.
- C She had carefully planned the trip and route so she was very confident of herself.
- D She was careful not to eat nor drink too much in a rushed manner.
- E Vikky was angry with herself because she had forgotten to pack her batteries.
- F As if by magic, there it was; the golden path of the jungle trail she was looking for.
- G The sun's rays struggled to penetrate the thick canopy above.
- H She always made sure that she would bring extra food and drinks for emergencies.

Questions 33 to 40

You are going to read five reviews on types of shoppers. Read them carefully and answer the questions that follow.

A Anita

Impulsive shoppers are known for their spontaneous buying decisions especially during promotions. They often purchase without much planning or consideration. Getting free-gifts or discount coupons influences their rational thinking, making them buy unnecessarily. Impulsive buyers get excited of getting the coupons which make them overspend. However, they soon realise that these items are useless but it is too late.

B Badrul

Bargain hunters are always on the lookout for discounts, deals, and sales. They put in a lot of time and effort in comparing prices, and looking for special offers to save money. Bargain hunters are motivated when they find good deals. They are skilled negotiators and may even haggle to get the best price. Bargain hunters are proud of their abilities to find quality products at the cheapest price.

C Citra

Brand loyalists are faithful to specific brands. They trust the name and quality of these brands. Brand loyalists often identify with the values and image shown by their chosen brands. They believe these brands suit them best. Brand loyalists may promote their favourite brands voluntarily, thus portraying them as ambassadors of the product.

D Donald

Research-oriented shoppers are careful when it comes to shopping. They research the products in detail and spend time reading reviews. These shoppers will make the best choice based on their research. Research-oriented shoppers often go for a balance of quality and price to find the products that best suit their needs. They work hard at gathering information to make the best choices, and this gives them confidence in their decisions.

E Elfira

Convenience shoppers like shopping to be easy and efficient. They often opt for online shopping because it is easier to browse and purchase from the comfort of their own homes. They appreciate the time-saving benefits of shopping online and may choose retailers that offer fast shipping options. Convenience shoppers also like to shop for all their products in one location. They may use services like roadside pickup or home delivery to make shopping as convenient as possible.

Questions 33 to 36

Which paragraph (A – E) fits the following descriptions of these types of shoppers? Mark your answers on the given answer sheet.

No	Description	Paragraph
33	They do not consider spending time gathering information about certain products as a waste of time.	_____
34	Purchasing items that are worth the money they spent gives a sense of satisfaction for them.	_____
35	They may spend unnecessarily during clearance sales.	_____
36	The most important factor for them is to save time during shopping.	_____
